

After one of the roughest trips in her career, the Japanese S. S. America Maru arrived off port yesterday morning from the Orient, nearly a day behind her usual running time. She left Yokohama January 19 and ran, into a storm that lasted for four days. For two days the weather was terrific, high seas and high winds. At one time the wind exceeded the velocity of a gale. The weather and the heavy seas were coming with the vessel, so she had to run under a slow bell, and keep nothing more than steerage way, as the vessel would have been raked with the propellers constantly out of the water.

During practically all of the time that the heavy weather prevailed the steel shutters were kept on and nobody was permitted on the decks of the vessel. The after port companion-way was carried away, as was a portion of the rail, by the heavy seas. Captain Going took his vessel along Midway and the chain of islands and shoals lying between Midway and the Hawaiian Islands, as the weather was calmer toward the southern part of his route.

On January 28 one of the Japanese firemen died of a sickness that the local quarantine officials have since diagnosed as plague of the pneumonic type. The vessel was sighted shortly after 5 o'clock, but was not permitted to come into the harbor until afternoon yesterday. She was put alongside the new quarantine wharf. A post mortem examination of the dead fireman resulted in the physicians here declaring him a victim of the plague. The vessel was therefore ordered into the strictest quarantine. She was put through most careful fumigation and all of her passengers were landed on Quarantine Island. It was ordered that none of the passengers, not even the through cabin passengers, could leave the vessel, so the latter will not have the opportunity of visiting the city during the stay of the vessel in port.

This morning the vessel is to move over to the Hackfeld wharf, and there start to discharge her cargo of 496 tons of freight for this port. The 428 Japanese passengers for Honolulu have been put ashore at Quarantine Island and will be detained for the necessary period. The Honolulu cabin passengers will also be detained in quarantine until released by order of the quarantine physicians.

The America Maru has a small crowd of through passengers. Among them is S. Takenouchi, representing a large Osaka shipping company. He is going to America for the purpose of looking over the situation, with a possible view of starting a new steamship line to America.

Dr. Geo. E. Stallman, who stops over at Honolulu, is an army physician, who has been in the Philippines since 1898.

The America will sail for San Francisco at 4 p. m. today.

FRENCH CRUISER ARRIVES.

En route to New Caledonia, the French cruiser Catinat arrived yesterday morning, twenty days from San Diego, California. The vessel had good weather during her run to this port. She will take on 900 tons of coal. On Sunday she will probably be thrown open to inspection by the public. She is docked at Naval Wharf No. 1. Her captain paid an official call upon Admiral Very, who later returned the call. Salutes were fired by the vessel and by the saluting guns at the Naval Station during the ceremonies. The Catinat is named for one of the marshals of the time of Louis XIV.

WORD OF JAPANESE FLEET.

Admiral Very, commandant of the Naval Station, received cable advices yesterday to the effect that the visiting Japanese squadron was to leave Yokohama January 28 for Honolulu. The vessels will be due here about February 14. They will remain in port about a week. After leaving here they will go to the British Colonies, calling at Fiji, New Zealand and Australia ports.

ISLAND STEAMERS ARRIVE.

Two island steamers arrived yesterday, the Mauna Loa from her run to Maui and Hawaii ports, and the Nihau from Makaweli. The latter boat brought 6000 bags of sugar and the Mauna Loa brought sugar and island products.

MARINE NOTES.

The steamer Mikahala is due this morning from Kauai ports.

There are 150,000 bags of sugar at the Railway wharf warehouse awaiting the S. S. Californian.

The steamer Kinu took a very large crowd to the big island yesterday. The band played the vessel away.

The S. S. Hongkong Maru is due this afternoon from San Francisco with five days' later mail from the mainland.

Cheerfulness

Cheerfulness is the mother of joys. With strong, calm nerves just to be alive is a delight.

When the nerves are out of condition life is a gloomy struggle. A tonic should then be taken that will strengthen and restore the nerves.

Paine's Celery Compound has brought happiness to nervous sufferers for over 19 years.

Read the formula and the statements of the medical authorities and you will understand just how and just why it is.

Paine's Celery Compound contains no alcohol, no cocaine, no opium, no harmful drugs of any nature. It has stood the test of generations.

Weekly Weather Bulletin

For the Week Ended January 26, 1907.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The rainfall during the week, as a rule, was light, but two stations on Hawaii, two on Maui, and one on Molokai reporting amounts in excess of 1.00 inch. Two stations in the Kohala and one in the eastern portion of the Puna districts of Hawaii report no rainfall. The greatest amounts during the week were 3.12 inches at Nahiku and 1.98 inches at Kihel, Maui; 1.31 and 1.07 inches at Laupahoehoe and Ooakala, Hawaii, respectively, and 1.21 inches at Moikoi Ranch, Molokai.

The total rainfall was below the average for the week at all stations having a record of ten or more years, excepting excesses of +.19 and +.04 inch at the U. S. Weather Bureau, Honolulu, and Waimanalo, Oahu, respectively. The deficiencies ranged from -.16 inch to -.11 inches in the Kohala, -.41 to -.31 inch in the Kau, Kona and Hamakua, and -.18 to -.22 inches in the Hilo and Puna districts of Hawaii; -.30 inch to -.1.01 inches in the Kona district of Kauai, and -.11 to -.31 inch on Oahu, excepting at the two stations where excesses occurred.

Practically all stations reported less rainfall than during the preceding week. The greatest differences occurred on Kauai, where they ranged from -.12.03 to -.14.05 inches, and -.4.09 to -.5.42 inches in the Kau district of Hawaii.

The following reports in connection with the volcanic eruption of Mauna Loa, Hawaii, were received: Hawaii—Puakea Ranch, atmosphere hazy and smoky; Kohala Mill, smoke heavy 19.23 inclusive; Kohala Mission, atmosphere smoky since the 12th; Niuli, much smoke noticeable every day; Laupahoehoe and Hakalau, smoky throughout the week; Hilo, atmosphere very smoky; Olaa Mill, days smoky; Kapoho, sky clouded from smoke; Naelehu, the atmosphere is full of smoke; Kau (23) (Waihoahu), the lava streams running toward South Kona continue active; Kealahou (24) (Wallace), it is reported this morning that there is no fire to be seen in the lava flow, but the crater is still active; Kealahou (Davis), very smoky; Puuwaawaa, smoky; Maui—Huelo, the entire island has been enveloped in smoke throughout the week; Kihel, smoky and hazy latter part of week; Waikuku, atmosphere hazy, most likely due to volcanic smoke. Oahu—Honolulu (W. B.), atmosphere smoky at intervals on the 22-26, inclusive; Maunawili Ranch, very smoky on 23rd and 24th.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands and for the Group:

	Temperature.	Rainfall.
Hawaii	69.4 deg.	0.43 in.
Maui	70.6 deg.	0.78 in.
Oahu	71.1 deg.	0.56 in.
Kauai	70.6 deg.	0.32 in.
Molokai	70.3 deg.	1.04 in.

Entire Group .. 70.0 deg. 0.52 in.

At the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu the mean temperature was 71.6 deg., .6 deg. above the normal, and 1.0 deg. lower than last week's. The maximum temperature was 80 deg. and the minimum 64 deg. The total rainfall was .93 inch, 19 above the normal, and 2.24 inches less than last week's. The average cloudiness was 410ths, the mean relative humidity 77.9 per cent., and the prevailing wind was NE., with an average hourly velocity of 5.1 miles.
